Feast on the Wild: An Alaska Island Culinary Expedition

Join us for an extraordinary culinary expedition led by Tim Steinberg and Chef Denise Janny on a captivating journey to an Alaskan island. Immerse yourself in the vibrant flavors of local Alaskan cuisine, discover the secrets of traditional indigenous foods, and savor the freshest ingredients, including wild-caught salmon, halibut, and succulent oysters harvested from the pristine waters of Kachemak Bay, renowned as the world's finest.

Indulge in Tim's award-winning smoked salmon and awaken to a delectable breakfast of French toast adorned with local berries and organic Birch and maple syrup. Don't miss the chance to relish reindeer sausage, a favorite among previous guests who often stock up before leaving Alaska. Tim's specialty lies in the exceptionally large scallops from Kamishak Bay, a true delicacy.

Your accommodations offer diverse options, from the cozy chalet with a welcoming communal area to the surf shack overlooking the beach. Alternatively, you can opt for deluxe wall tents equipped with queen beds, a fireplace, and breathtaking views. During your stay on Hesketh Island, evenings are highlighted by beachfront bonfires, including one night with Tim grilling wild game burgers on the shore.

Relax and unwind in a wood-fired sauna with a serene stream flowing beneath. Optional activities abound, from kayaking in Kachemak Bay and observing sea otters, whales, Dahl porpoises, and majestic eagles to gaining insights from our kayak guide, Olga, a seasoned expert on humpback whales who has teamed up with Tim for over 25 years. Tim will also enhance your photography skills, ensuring you capture unforgettable memories of this extraordinary journey.
